

THAW'S MOTHER AND WIFE RENT NEW YORK HOUSE

Did Not Look Kindly
Upon Their Reception
In Pittsburg.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Mrs. William Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the wife of her prisoner son, have begun housekeeping in New York city. They are fitting up in sumptuous manner a house on Park avenue, near Fifty-ninth street. The furniture, bric-a-brac, rugs and other appurtenances of a magnificent home are from the Thaw mansion, Lyndhurst, in Pittsburg.

The move is a significant one, indicating as it does many developments in the great Thaw case. It foretells that there is absolutely no chance of Harry Thaw leaving the Tombs until he has again been tried.

It also makes plain to New York society, according to those who know, that Mrs. Thaw did not look kindly upon the reception she received at the hands of the Pittsburg exclusive social world after the revelations made in the trial. This, it is said, so struck at the roots of Mrs. Thaw's pride that she decided to leave Pittsburg. It is said she will never again live in her home city, and this assertion is borne out by the establishment of a New York residence. Lyndhurst, as has been reported, is mortgaged. The house is regarded as a forerunner of absolute sale.

Then, again, the arrangement for the elder and younger Mrs. Thaw to dwell in the same house tells plainly a story of heart sympathy and of common surrender to one cause of devotion, to one all important task—the freeing of Harry Thaw. Both women will nurse their sorrow and plan with woman's devotion for accomplishing their hearts' wish, the release of son and husband.

LOTTERY PROPERTY TO BE DESTROYED

If the plans of the Government do not miscarry, the last vestige of the Honduras Lottery Company will be removed within three weeks.

The relentless warfare waged against it by the Federal authorities since its operation as the successor to the Louisiana Lottery Company, has brought its managers and agents to their knees in supplication for mercy.

The men will themselves, with the expectation of escaping further punishment than the infliction of a heavy fine, destroy all property belonging to the concern.

The Federal grand jury at Wilmington, Del., which was to have taken up the lottery case this week, was excused and 300 witnesses dismissed. It is understood that similar action has been taken in New York, New Jersey, and in several Southern cities. The concern's printing plant was located at Wilmington. It will have to be disposed of without delay.

LONGSHOREMEN GAIN VICTORY

NEW YORK, May 28.—The striking longshoremen today scored one of the greatest victories since they went on strike more than three weeks ago. Of the 600 strike breakers employed by the Munson line, on pier No. 9, East river, 592 marched out today and joined the strikers.

President Patrick Connors made union men out of the 32, and organized them into Branch No. 15 of the union.

That left the Munson line but eight men to load and unload three steamships tied up at its piers.

MONARCH WINNER IN VISIBLE TYPING

The recent endurance contest for "visible" typewriters, held in Paris, attracted international attention and aroused the keenest rivalry among makers of typewriters.

The fact that it was won by an American entry—the Monarch Visible—was highly gratifying to the American business men present at the contest, for it makes more secure than ever America's position at the head of the world's "visible" typewriter manufacturing industry.

Since typewriters have reached their high development in America—and especially since the advent of the "visible" writing machine—foreign manufacturers have looked with envy upon the inroads made in the home market by American-made machines. The test of the various "visibles" at Paris, therefore, representing as they do the highest achievement in mechanical writing, aroused typewriter makers everywhere to putting forth their strongest efforts to come away with the endurance victory of "visibles."

There were several American entries in the endurance contest for "visibles." One manufacturer entered as many as twenty-one machines. The winning make, which had three entries only, employs the well-known under-stroke principle, so long standard with the non-visible writers, re-enforced with a number of new and striking devices.

High Chief Ruler Wayne W. Cordell and Col. J. C. Lee, undersheriff, conducted the ceremonies. Every member was connected with the funeral and relief funds of the order.
